Unit Description
The program in Japanese will build upon your TASC language study to complete the requirements of first year university level Japanese.

It will develop competence in beginners spoken and written Japanese.

It is designed to prepare you for UTAS second year level language study.

To receive a result for Introductory Japanese students will need to successfully complete mandatory assignments and workshops and achieve a Japanese (TASC level 3) result of CA or better.

70% of the results of the Japanese (TASC Level 3) result will be combined with 30% of the UCP written and conversation assessment to receive the final award.

Learning Objectives
On completion of this unit, you should be able to:

- Understand the basic elements of Japanese grammar, particularly word order and sentence structure, including expressing existence, using positional words, counting and expressing numerals and counters, conjugating verbs and adjectives, using comparatives and superlatives, expressing probability and conjecture and describing abilities
- Recognise and write 104 kanji and recognise a further 80 kanji
- Converse in Japanese with confidence using basic knowledge and skills
- Have a beginner’s knowledge of aspects of Japanese culture.

During the workshops, emphasis will be placed on extending students’ oral/aural comprehension and usage of Japanese grammatical structures, with the aim of enhancing students’ ability to express themselves more accurately and precisely in Japanese.
