PARTIES, GATHERINGS
AND SLEEPOVERS
A practical guide to keeping your teenager safe

Teenage parties provide young people with valuable opportunities to develop a range of social skills that they need to relate effectively with their peers. As they grow older, alcohol and sometimes drugs are likely to become a part of these social gatherings and, unfortunately, things can go wrong.

You are invited to a presentation by Paul Dillon on this important topic.

Paul has been working in the area of drug education for 25 years, sharing best practice drug education with many school communities across Australia. As a former school teacher Paul has a strong interest in working with young people. He is also author of the best-selling book Teenagers, Alcohol and Drugs.

Using the latest research, this presentation will examine:
- what we know about young people
- alcohol, drugs and their use at parties.

It will also provide:
- some practical strategies
- simple tips for parents considering whether to allow their teen to attend these events to help ensure they are as safe as possible.
